Project details

DOLD has been supplying coating systems for rail vehicle construction for many years. The fact that their products are now being used in the “Halle Rapide,” where locomotives and car bodies were once manufactured, creates a remarkable historical connection and rounds off this successful project.

You can read more about this project here or in issue 1/26 of applica. In an exciting interview, Agosti AG Die Malermeister reports on the challenges of the project and the supportive partnership with DOLD.
